

Method of converting grades based on certificates obtained abroad entitling to undertake BA/BSc studies and MA/MSc studies

The number of points (LP) for candidates with a certificate obtained abroad is converted according to the following formula:

$LP = WJo + WJoj + (WPw \times 10)$ – applicable to all majors (apart from veterinary medicine studies),

W - refers to the result awarded on the foreign certificate converted into a recruitment point expressed as a percentage (table 1)

WJo – refers to the number of percentage points concerning a foreign language;

WJoj – refers to the number of percentage points concerning the mother tongue;

WPw – refers to a higher number of points for the recruitment subject indicated in the resolution calculated based on the following rule:

$0,4 \times WP$ or $1,0 \times WR$,

WP – percentage points obtained at the standard level;

WR – percentage points obtained at the high level;

In case of veterinary medicine studies:

$LP = WR(B) + WR(Ch)$

WR(B)- refers to an advanced biology result

WR(Ch)- refers to an advanced chemistry result
